

Premier Dynamic Growth Portfolio

Premier Private Client Portfolio

Quarterly Update - April 2011

The Premier Dynamic Growth Portfolio invests in UK and overseas markets principally through closed-ended investment companies although some investment may be made in open-ended funds. This portfolio is likely to provide exposure to a range of asset classes such as property or commodities, with the objective of maximising capital appreciation.

For further growth opportunities, the portfolio will include exposure both to more volatile markets and to individual investments that would be regarded as higher risk.

Portfolio Manager Commentary

It was a slightly disappointing quarter for the Portfolio. The principal contributor to negative performance was Vision Opportunity China which fell 36% as the trading record and corporate governance standards of one of its core investments came under scrutiny. Strongest returns were from Axa Property Trust which rose 17% over the three months to 5 April. We took advantage of this relative strength to halve the position.

The proceeds from Axa Property Trust were reinvested in the Premier Enterprise fund. The Premier Enterprise Fund follows the same strategy as the Aggressive Growth strategy but is able to provide exposure to a more diversified portfolio. This introduces a wider range of investment opportunities.

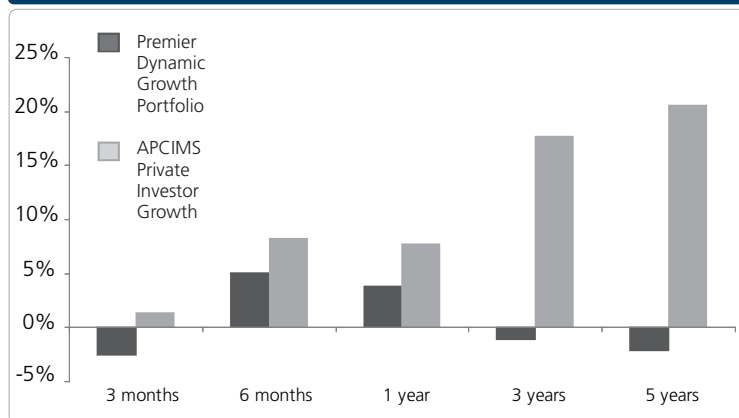

Asset Allocation as at 31 March 2011

The Japanese market fell sharply in the quarter as a consequence of the earthquake and nuclear crisis. Our only material exposure to Japan was through Alliance Trust which has 6% of its portfolio exposed to Japan. Likewise, we had minimal exposure to North Africa. Our core holding for emerging market exposure, Templeton Emerging Markets, had 2.9% of its portfolio in the Middle East and Africa compared to an emerging markets index weighting of 8.4%. Elsewhere, Burford Capital, the provider of litigation finance, reported full year results with a positive update on progress. However, this news flow has not yet been reflected in the share price which was almost unchanged over the period.

Important Information

Investments for discretionary managed portfolios may include investment trusts which use gearing as an investment strategy. This means that movements in the price of the shares may be more volatile than the movements in the price of the underlying investments. Sudden and large falls in value may occur and investors may get back nothing at all if there is a sufficiently large fall in the value of the investment. The fund may invest in "capital at risk product" investments where you could lose some or all of the money you invest. The rate of return advertised for these products might be achieved only after a set period and upon specific conditions being met. Investments may also include hedge fund and commodity based funds which may be less liquid, more volatile and not readily realisable. Past performance is not a guide to future returns. The price of shares and income from them can go down as well as up. You may get back less than you invest. Exchange rates will also cause the value of underlying investments to fall or rise. Tax concessions are not guaranteed and may be changed at any time; their value will depend on your individual circumstances. For your protection when dealing, your call may be recorded and monitored. This information is provided by Premier Fund Managers Limited and is for information purposes only. It does not constitute advice or a recommendation for investment purposes. Details of the nature of the investments, the commitment required and specific risk warnings are described in the Discretionary Agreement document which is available on request.
